Eclipse™ Polycarbonate Overlaminates...

We Make The Film, So We Can Make Good On The Film Quality

R Tape is only polycarbonate overlaminate manufacturer that makes its own polycarbonate film. We have more than 20 years of production experience extruding heavy gauge polycarbonate films. And because we control the process, we can better control of the quality.

The high-quality Eclipse™ polycarbonate overlaminates are available in 3mil, 5mil and 10 mil thickness. Their heavy gauge construction provides exceptional abrasion and moisture protection for expensive tradeshow graphics, photographic prints and POP transparencies. The new line of polycarbonate overlaminates are available in 38" and 51" widths, in 150 ft. rolls.

By eliminating the reflection of overhead lights, the velvet finish of these polycarbonate films allows for glare-free viewing. R Tape polycarbonate overlaminates also protect prints from the degrading effects of UV light, thereby extending the service life of photographs and digital prints. These thick, rigid films, which exhibit excellent lay-flat characteristics, are ideal for protecting ink jet, electrostatic, photographic or screen printed images.

Eclipse™ polycarbonate overlaminates are coated with a high-performance, solvent-based adhesive designed to improve the product's resistance to tunneling, crazing and stress whitening, when graphics are rolled. The heavy coating weight of its non-yellowing adhesive allows for better adhesive wet out resulting in blemish-free laminations. Its polyester film liner keeps adhesive smooth and crystal clear to prevent orange peel.
